

Whenever your local SMS Administration sends you an actual software Package, the SMS Package Command Manager will appear (usually at network login time) displaying the available Packages. The following screenshot displays screens similar to what you will see when you receive an actual SMS Package.

To start the demonstration, click the "Get SMS Packages" button of the screen.